A newsletter of the Order of the Crown of Charlemagne in the United States of America

Fall 2009

issue No 4

Message from the President General

Dear Members,

I am delighted as your new President General for 2009-2012 to continue the recently established tradition of our newsletter Jewels of the Crown to keep you apprised of events of our Order and those affecting our Order.

You may have read of the bankruptcy of the parent company of Bailey, Banks & Biddle and J.E. Caldwell. Rest assured our dies are safe with City Pride and insignia will continue to be available.

Our publication of Verified Lineages to Gateway Ancestors that was published earlier this year in memory of past President General Grahame Thomas Smallwood, Jr. and ably compiled by Tracy Ashley Crocker has met with great approbation. You may obtain hard copy with a disk from Tracy Crocker.

This Order is rather distinct in that the gateway ancestor need not have come to America in the 17th Century, a provision which well suited our founder Marcellus D.R. von Redlich. Our late members Joan Jameson Cotter Ferrell and Count Nicholas Bobrinskoy, indeed were their own gateway ancestors, having been born in Dublin, Ireland and Nice, France respectively. Timothy Field Beard wrote in Volume Two of Pedigrees of Some of Emperor Charlemagne's Descendants (1974)

"It should be noted that Americans whose ancestors came from continental Europe in the colonial period and the 19th Century are unlikely to easily delineated descent from Charlemagne in their background. There was a separation of classes in Europe and the blood of the rulers seldom flowed legitimately into the blood of the nobility and commoners."

But recently no less than six gateway ancestors appear in Tracy's compilation that came from France (3) and Scandinavia (3) in the 19th Century. It occurs to me that you might want to rise to the challenge to recruit more members who either are themselves, or descend from more recently arriving, gateway ancestors. I know that some of you have married into families that would qualify through Continental European lines. Try the Stamm Folgen-Verzeichnisse of Starke of Limburg-lahn for German lines.

The search for new gateway ancestors and new lines to validate former gateway ancestors continues on a pace. In my own case I have seen Thomas Bradbury accepted only to fall from grace more than twice. He's back in Tracy's book, but I don't know for how long. So tell your Bradbury descendants to join now while the going is good.

I look forward to greeting you next April at our Annual Meeting and Dinner at the Metropolitan Club on April 15, 2010.

Nicholas Donnell Ward
President General

#122-ALLAN COOPER DELL, JR.

Mr. Dell, of Charlotte, died unexpectedly Friday, July 31st, 2009. Born on April 22, 1957, Mr. Dell was the son of the late Jean Edrington Dell and Allan Cooper Dell, senior. He is survived by his wife, Susan 'Woozie' Dell, and son, Allan Cooper Dell, III, of the home.

Mr. Dell is a graduate of Charlotte Latin School, the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and earned a B.S. in Interior Design from the O'More College of Design with a major in Historic Preservation. In addition, Mr. Dell studied at the Parson's School of Design in England, the Institute of Classical Architecture of Great Britain, and took extensive coursework through the Victoria and Albert Museum, London. An Allied Member of the Society of Interior Designers, Mr. Dell was a highly respected designer among his peers and known for his generosity and eagerness to mentor and share best practices. The recipient of many design awards, Mr. Dell worked diligently to create interiors that were at first glance exuberant and elegant, but above all else, loved and used by his clients. While he designed many residential interiors in Charlotte, his work was recognized throughout the Southeast serving a wide range of clients all along the Eastern Seaboard. Mr. Dell was known for his thorough and accurate research and understanding of materials, textiles, architecture, antiques and art. An avid student, Mr. Dell studied history, architecture, and art extensively and incorporated his wide knowledge into his work and his life.

Mr. Dell was an active member at Myers Park Presbyterian Church, and served as a Deacon, a Sunday School teacher, and a member of many committees. Mr. Dell was a devoted Christian with a deep faith, a love for all mankind and a commitment to make the world a better place. He delighted his friends and family with his quick wit, his friendly smile, and his willingness to help others.

Mr. Dell is survived by his sisters Diana Ezell and her husband Charles, Marjorie 'Mimi' Delaney and her husband Timothy and his sister-in-law, Jaqueline 'Jackie' Jones and her husband Tony Lewis Putnam. He is also survived by his nieces and nephews Whitney, Hillary and Cotesworth Delaney and Christopher, Andrew and Hunter Geiss, and a host of devoted friends.

Mr. Dell, an accomplished equestrian, loved the country life and enjoyed extensive travel throughout the United States and England. He had a keen interest in ancestry and was involved in a vast array of historical societies, but his favorite pasttime was sharing these moments with his son, Cooper, and wife, Woozie, weaving together the fabric of their loving family.

They had two sons, Edward and Anthony, and three daughters, Eleanor (wife of Giles Saint Barbe), Mary (wife of John Michell), and Barbara (wife of John Dawtrey, Knt.). He was a legatee in the 1522 will of his father. In 1524 he was assessed for tax with his nine servants at half the total for Kingston and Southwick together. EDWARD LEWKNOR, Esq., died 7 July 1528. He left a will dated 1 Oct. 1527, proved 7 Nov. 1528 (P.C.C. 39 Porch). In 1537 the manor of Kingston Bowsey (in Kingston by Sea), Sussex was settled on his widow, Margaret, for life and an additional 20 years, with remainder in tail male on her younger son, Anthony Lewknor. 16. EDWARD LEWKNOR, of Kingston Bowsey (in Kingston by Sea) and Hamsey, Sussex, Groom Porter to King Edward VI and Queen Mary I, Burgess (M.P.) for Horsham, Sussex, 1553, son and heir, born about 1518 (aged 11 in 1529). He was a legatee in the 1527 will of his father. He married before 1542 DOROTHY WROTH, daughter of Robert Wroth, Esq., of Durants (in Enfield), Middlesex, by Jane, daughter of Thomas Haute, Knt. They had four sons, Edward, Knt., Thomas, Stephen, and William, and five daughters, Leverest [Lucrece?] (wife of William Jackson), Anne, Mary, Dorothy (wife of Benjamin Pellatt, Esq.), and Elizabeth. On his mother's death, he took possession of the manor of Kingston Bowsey (in Kingston by Sea), Sussex. In 1551 the king and Council recommended him for the packership of London, but the City refused on the ground that the yield of the office had been allocated to the poor. In 1553 he was granted the manor of King's Barns (in Upper Beeding) and an estate called New Park (in Lower Beeding), Sussex by the king. In Feb. 1556 he and his cousin, William West, the disabled heir of the 9th Lord la Warre, were informed by Henry Peckham of the conspiracy being hatched by Henry Dudley, Knt., against Queen Mary I, and asked to procure a copy of the will of King Henry VIII as proof of the queen's ineligibility to wear the crown. Lewknor sent the document to West's house in St. Dunstan's, Farringdon Without, where it was handed over to Peckham. Lewknor was also said to have had meetings with sympathizers both at his house in Sussex and in London, and more vaguely to have been privy to a plot to kill the Queen during a card game. On 6 June 1556 he was taken to the Tower of London and on 15 June following he was tried at Guildhall and sentenced to death for treason. EDWARD LEWKNOR died a prisoner in the Tower of London 6 Sept.

1556. Following his attainder in 1556, the Crown granted the manors of Kingston Bowsey (in Kingston by Sea) and Hamsey, Sussex to his widow, Dorothy. She and his brother, Anthony Lewknor, appear to have broken the entail on the manor of Kingston Bowsey, Sussex in 1559. Dorothy left a will dated 1587, proved 26 Aug. 1589 (P.C.C. 68 Leicester).

He was born after 1545. They had one son, John, Gent., and four daughters, Dorothy, Jane, Elizabeth, and Mary. In 1570 Queen Elizabeth I sued Matthew Machell regarding money lent by the said Matthew to Thomas, Lord Wentworth for the supposed sale of sugar to Lord Wentworth agreed upon by the defendant and Robert Savadge to escape the penalties of the statute of usury. He was sent by Scituate as a Deputy to the Plymouth General Court in 1659, but was not approved by the Court. In 1660 he was disenfranchised of his freedom of the Plymouth Colony, being found a “manifest opposer of the laws of the government” owing to his support of the Quakers. He was readmitted to freemanship 4 July 1673, and on the same day was made magistrate for Scituate. In 1673 he was authorized to solemnize marriages, grant subpoenas for witnesses, and to administer oaths to witnesses. In Dec. 1673 he was chosen to lead a military expedition against the Dutch. Charlemagne Ancestry of American Presidents

More than 20 American Presidents, including the current one, are believed to have royal ancestry, and thus, in all probability, also have Charlemagne ancestry. President Obama's "gateway" ancestor, Martha Eltonhead (Mrs. Edwin Conway), is shared with President James Madison. A brief outline of his descent from her follows:

"Gateways" of the 19th and 20th Centuries

Many Americans who descend from certain 17th century American colonists, known as "gateways" are able to prove descent from the royal houses of Europe. Accepting the admonition of President General Ward to identify individuals who are either themselves "gateways", or are descended from more recently arriving "gateway" ancestors, we offer the following initial list:

- 1. Winston Frederick Churchill Guest, descendant of Henry VII, King of England.
- 2. Lady Carolyn Elizabeth Ann Townsend, descendant of William IV of Great Britain.
- 3. Rupert Everett (actor), descendant of Charles II, King of England.
- 4. Lady Jeanne Louise Campbell, descendant of Henry VII, King of England.
- 5. David Mackenzie Ogilvy, descendant of James V, King of Scotland.
- 6. Evangeline Bell, descendant of Edward IV, King of England.
- 7. Josiah Ralph Patrick Wedgewood, descendant of Edward III, King of England.
- 8. Agnes Elizabeth Winona Leclerq Joy, descendant of James I, King of England.
- 9. Lady Caroline Maureen Hamilton-Temple-Blackwood, descendant of Charles II, King of England.
- 10. Hon. Jessica Lucy Freeman-Mitford, descendant of Charles II, King of England.

For a more detailed account of the royal ancestry of these individuals, readers are encouraged to consult Gary Boyd Roberts' The Royal Descents of 600 Immigrants With 2008 Addendum, Coda, and Final Addendum; Douglas Richardson's Plantagenet Ancestry and Magna Charta Ancestry; as well as Frederick L.
